

DAUGHTER OF FORMER BETHANY PASTOR KEPT DIVORCE LONG SECRET

Father Is Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman—She Was Wife of Rev. Columbus Polk Goodson, of Lima, O.

LATTER DISAPPEARED

Mrs. Bertha Chapman Goodson, daughter of the Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, noted evangelist and former pastor of the Bethany Presbyterian Church, has been divorced from her husband, the Rev. Columbus Polk Goodson, of Lima, O.

The decree was obtained in Lima, Ohio, on February 21, and only became known here today. The grounds for the divorce were given as gross neglect. Two months before the divorce was given Mrs. Goodson returned to her father's home, Jamaica Estates, Jamaica, L. I.

Mrs. Goodson was well known in this city when her father held the pastorage of the Bethany Presbyterian Church, 224 and Bainbridge streets, from 1890 to 1893, and later from 1895 to 1900. She had a beautiful voice and sang in the church choir, and in her father's evangelistic campaigns Mrs. Goodson sang at the services and through her efforts converted many persons. She was then unmarried.

Mrs. Goodson was the pastor of the Olivet Presbyterian Church in Lima before December 1, and only became known here today. The grounds for the divorce were given as gross neglect. Two months before the divorce was given Mrs. Goodson returned to her father's home, Jamaica Estates, Jamaica, L. I.

When Mr. Goodson disappeared his young wife closed their home and took her two children to her father's home in New York. At a later meeting of the trustees of the church took the action of formally dismissing the pastor. The disappearance and removal of the clergyman created a sensation in the city and had been prominent in church and civic affairs. He had been conducting a vigorous "purity crusade" to abolish a district of city saloons.

Mr. Goodson and Miss Bertha Irene Chapman were married at Warsaw, Ind., on June 2, 1908. He then was pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago, and later of the Olivet Church, Philadelphia. After the honeymoon they lived at Highland Park until 1911, when Mr. Goodson assisted Dr. Chapman in a revival tour, accompanied by Mrs. Goodson, who sang at the meetings.

Before her marriage Mrs. Goodson had been soloist at her father's revival meetings. She possessed a remarkable voice, and among her tutors was Mrs. Schumann-Reink, who advised that she go into opera. Before coming to Olivet Church in Lima Mr. and Mrs. Goodson lived at Winona Lake. Recently Mrs. Goodson has been on a concert tour.

BOY'S LONG TRIP HALTED BY SIGHT OF STEAM SHOVEL

New Jersey Lad, Picked Up in West Philadelphia, Would See the World

The residents of National Park, N. J., do not see a steam shovel at work very often. That and the natural fascination such a machine holds for the youthful mind explains why a 14-year-old Matthew Keetin stared so long at one operating at 55th and Market streets. He stared such a very long time and appeared so happy over the sight that Policeman McLaughlin, of the 61st and Thompson streets station, noticed him. "Where do you live?" asked the policeman.

"Oh, across the river, and then I get on a car and then I go home in a wagon," responded the boy. McLaughlin took Matthew to the police station, where he confessed that he had run away from home and, with 75 cents in his pocket, set out to see the world. The boy's explanation of how he got to West Philadelphia was that he "just walked."

The Keetin family formerly lived in Philadelphia and the city is, apparently, quite fascinating to Matthew. This was his second night to the metropolis, for he was found at 40th and Market streets on March 25. He was sent to the House of Detention, to be held until called for by his parents.

THREE NAMED NAVAL CADETS

Congressman Edmonds Gets Appointments for Central High Boys Who Passed Tests

Word has been received from Washington that three Central High School pupils had been nominated for appointment to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. They are Harvey Wilson, of 1233 Columbia avenue; J. Albert Oldach, of 2008 North Marvino street, and Milton Cabbage, of 1234 North 31st street.

The nominations were made by Congressman George W. Edmonds, representing the 4th Pennsylvania Congressional District, as the result of an examination recently held at the Central High School by Prof. Calvin O. Atkinson.

Wilson, who passed with the highest average, is 18 years old. His home is in Clemington, N. J., but he lives with his uncle, Dr. Judson Hancock. He was transferred to the local school from the Haddon Heights High School, of New Jersey.

Oldach, who made the second average, also is 18 years old. He won his letters on the football team and as a member of the crew. He also is a champion intercollegiate wrestler.

Cabbage is the youngest of the three appointees, being only 17 years. He is a brother of "Ben" Cabbage, of State College football fame.

DELAWARE DEMOCRATS VOTE

Comparatively Few Contests at Primaries Today

WILMINGTON, April 15.—In contrast with the Republican primaries of last Saturday, the Democratic primaries being held today are very quiet. There are comparatively few contests and no factional fights to get control of the convention, to be held in Dover next Tuesday. There was originally some question of whether the contest for President of the United States should be voted for directly or delegates chosen to a convention to name national delegates.

At the primaries the voter is being given an opportunity to express his choice for President, and this will guide the delegates to the national convention, though it will not bind them.

There is every reason to believe that the national delegates from this State, of whom United States Senator William Saulsbury will be one, will vote for the renomination of Wilson.

In Wilmington there will be no contests at all, the delegates having been chosen at ward meetings.

BOHEMIAN PARTY ENDS IN DEATH OF HOSTESS

Drugs Found in Room With Dead Woman and Unconscious Actress Guest

NEW YORK, April 15.—A woman believed to have been Mrs. George Hodges, of 183 Eagle street, Albany, N. Y., is dead, and her hostess, Mrs. Margaret Lahah, an actress, a chorus girl and motion picture actress, who had been the guests of Mrs. Lahah, in whose luxurious apartment the tragedy occurred, is unable to talk. The witnesses detained are Morton A. Loeb, a real estate agent, and a woman who says she is Dorothy Morgan, former "Midnight Frolic" chorus girl.

The four with the missing witness met in Mrs. Lahah's apartment Thursday evening, Mrs. Hodges coming from Albany, Friday morning Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Lahah retired to bed, and the police have learned, and shortly afterward started screaming. They had medical attention until late in the afternoon, when Mrs. Hodges died.

The police are without evidence that a suicide pact existed between Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Lahah, but accuse the latter of attempted suicide. They were unwilling to state today their opinion of the influence behind Mrs. Hodges' death.

No morphine containers were found in the apartment, but a box labeled "aspirin," which did not contain that substance, was found. Its contents are being analyzed.

BULLETIN BOARD COP SOON TO BE A BRIDEGROOM

Sidewalk War Fans Interested in News of His Prospective Marriage

Sidewalk war fans who linger on the pavement while they scan the Ledger bulletin board learned today that the traffic policeman who keeps a lane open no matter what the bulletin board says, is going to be married. George Deegan, the policeman who goes through the financial district to keep an eye on strangers there when he is not marshaling the bulletin board his, will be married to Miss Sue Jaus, of 233 North 21st street, has been announced.

The news got out today. It surprised Deegan's friends on the force, and many who know him along Chestnut street. Deegan and Miss Jaus kept their plans carefully guarded. The announcement was made Thursday night by Miss Jaus' parents. She is 30, pretty and studies each day at the Girls' High School. The couple are eagerly waiting for the end of the school term. Deegan has been on the force seven years. He is one of the youngest men in the service.

DETECTIVE ACCUSED OF BRIBE-TAKING

Fifty-one Charges Against Former Beau Brummel of Burns Agency in Chicago

CHICAGO, April 15.—Detective Sergeant John Walker, of Chicago, was en route to New York today to bring Guy Biddinger, ex-waiter and former Beau Brummel private detective sergeant here, to face trial on 51 charges of bribe-taking. Biddinger went to New York to become head of the Burns detective agency there.

He is charged with taking bribes from men, a list of whose names reads like a directory of Chicago crookdom. The evidence against Biddinger, came to Chicago authorities from A. Leo Weil, a lawyer and reform leader, who had hired Biddinger to do some detective work in Pittsburgh. Weil, suspecting Biddinger to be "double-crossing" him, asked an explanation, and a short time later Weil himself was arrested at the instigation of Biddinger on a charge of being a member of the West Virginia Public Service Commission. Forced to clear himself, Weil hired detectives to investigate Biddinger.

He looked in the store and a few moments later found Policeman Cavanaugh. When the policeman arrived the bandit was searching Hershenhorn. Cavanaugh drew his revolver and told the thief to hold up his hands. He made a rush for the officer and in the struggle which followed tried to shoot him at close range. Several times the barrel of the bandit's revolver pressed against the policeman's face, but he did not get opportunity to pull the trigger. Both were disarmed in the struggle and the policeman finally dropped the hold-up man with a right to the jaw. Then he took him to the patrol box.

"Get go me," said the prisoner, "I'll go along now." A moment later he tried to break away, and the policeman was again the winner after a tussle of several minutes.

The bandit gave his name as John Reilly, of East St. Louis. District detectives who looked him over at the 6th street and Woodland avenue police station, said his face was familiar.

He was held without bail by Magistrate Harris.

BOYS IMPROVISE AMBULANCE

Lads Carry Companion With Broken Legs Home on Bicycles

Two quick-witted boys came to the prompt aid of a companion whose legs were fractured in an automobile collision, last night, by using parts of his broken bicycle as splints and then by placing the victim across their own bicycles, which were used as an ambulance to take him home.

The injured boy is Harry A. Rowan, 10 years old, of 427 Hazel avenue. His companions, Thomas Hargensheimer and Richard Maddock, live near him. The three were riding bicycles in Walnut street, near 51st, when an automobile, driven by George Shuster, of 737 South 6th street, struck Rowan's wheel and then crashed into the curb. The automobile was badly damaged.

When Hargensheimer and Maddock realized the seriousness of Rowan's injuries they wrenched his twisted bicycle apart and used parts of it as splints. Then they bound their bicycles together and strapped the boy across the seats. Shuster gave himself up to the police of the 6th and Woodland streets station, and will be taken before a Magistrate today.

SUICIDE PACT INDICATED

NEW YORK, April 15.—Mrs. Mabel E. Hodges, 30 years old and pretty, is dead, and Mrs. Margaret Lahah, actress and music teacher, is in a serious condition in Bellevue Hospital today, their cases presenting one of the most unusual poison mysteries that ever has confronted the police.

A man and a woman have been held as witnesses, and search is being made for a man known only as Lester.

The mystery has been called by the police a "morphine party." Many well-known persons live in the apartment building at 245 West 51st street, where the tragedy occurred, among them John Mason, an actor; Herbert Menges Corwin, "the Pearl of Sheepshead Bay," now suing Conway Tearle for divorce, and Elsie Pope, just divorced by the rich and aged Edward D. Alton.

Preliminary investigation revealed that morphine was the cause of death. An autopsy will be held today to confirm this.

Mrs. Lahah, in whose luxurious apartment the tragedy occurred, is unable to talk. The witnesses detained are Morton A. Loeb, a real estate agent, and a woman who says she is Dorothy Morgan, former "Midnight Frolic" chorus girl.

BITUMINOUS SCALE ADOPTED

Operators Concede Better Working Conditions and Higher Pay to 50,000 Miners

Shortly after midnight this morning an agreement was reached between the operators and miners of central Pennsylvania which gives better working conditions to more than 50,000 miners in the bituminous fields, covered by District No. 2.

Among the concessions made were: Pick mining, 75 cents a ton gross; net ton equivalent, 44.42 cents per ton gross; net ton equivalent, 44.42 cents per ton gross; net ton equivalent, 44.42 cents per ton gross.

Trappers to receive $1.25 per day as minimum pay. All day labor rate increased 5 per cent, advancing wages from $2.64 to $2.77 per day.

Five per cent, increase on all yardage and "dead work." Operators agree to accept the check-off clause.

Probably the most important concession made by the operators was that giving the union the right to make special assessments, which means that funds may be raised in this manner, with the consent of the operators, to wage campaigns for better conditions in other districts.

EXCELLENT TROUT FISHING PREDICTED

State Commissioner Buller Thinks Season Will Be Best on Record

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 15.—Excellent trout fishing is predicted by Nathan R. Buller, the State Commissioner of Fisheries, during the season which opened today.

"The streams are well stocked," said Commissioner Buller. "Last year the Fisheries Department planted more than 2,000,000 trout one year old and older, and the condition of the streams indicates a favorable season. All last summer they were full of water, and the winter was exceptionally favorable, with enough water to enable the trout to escape their natural enemies, chiefly the minnows, which catch many more fish than the anglers. The plantings were made chiefly from the Bellefonte, Corry and Pleasant Mount hatcheries, and the yearlings were all lustrous fish, mostly of legal catchable size."

"With the exception of Chester, Bucks, Montgomery, York, Delaware and Philadelphia, there are trout streams in every county of the State, and from reports that have come in to the department the anglers are jubilant over the prospects."

ARMY OF ANGLERS AFTER LUSTY TROUT

First Day of Season Witnesses Rush of Enthusiastic Sportsmen

Terror-stricken trout tremble today. Perhaps they know that there's a State-wide plot to rout them from their happy homes in the glistening little streams which thread the valleys of Pennsylvania. There is nothing to tell them that the trout season opens on April 15 except the attacks which will be made upon them by ambitious sportsmen. Outbound trains, especially those bound for Pike County, were loaded with trout fishermen ready for the fray.

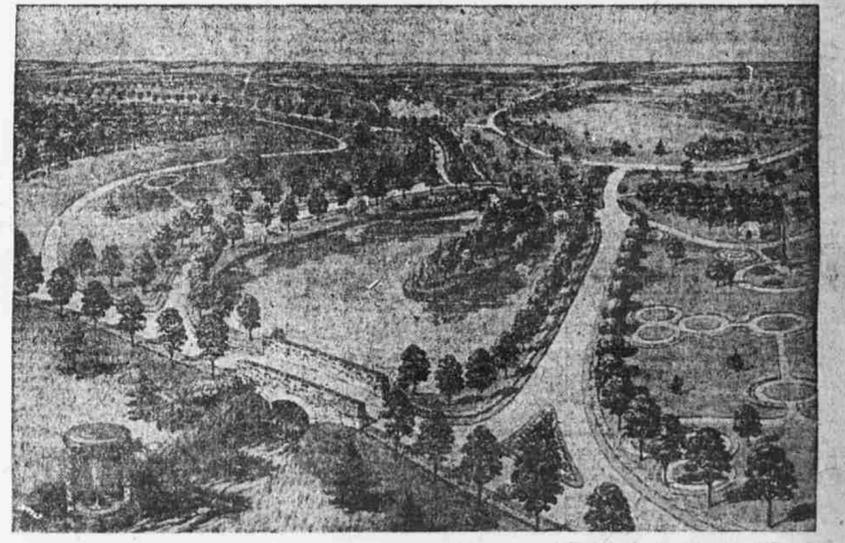

Many made a flying start on the last stroke of the midnight hour. They left in enthusiastic mood, for reports indicate that most of the streams are alive with the tasty fish.

During the last few years the sport has greatly improved, because only fish able to fight the battle of life and take care of themselves have been released in the streams. Many of the fishermen today are invading Lehigh County, for the Little Lehigh is considered one of the finest trout streams in the country. No fish under six inches in length may be kept, according to the law.

Interest in the welfare of fish generally has resulted in many well-stocked streams. Many of these are within easy riding distance of Philadelphia.
